LIMA TO HOLD MEMORIAL TO SOLDIER DEAD

City to Stop in Solemn Tribute
for Soldier Dead

GRAVES TO BE DECORATED

Parade of Patriotic Organizations on Friday Morning

Lima will pause Friday, Memorial day, in tribute to soldier dead of three wars. Wheels in factories are to stop in their daily grind, city offices are to close and doors of business houses are to be locked during the day.

An extensive memorial program has been arranged by the G. A. R.
in conjunction with the American Legion and other patriotic organizations to be carried out during the day. Graves of soldier dead in all cemeteries in and in the immediate vicinity of Lima are to be decorated, a memorial parade will be held and in various churches, throughout the city memorial services are to be held.

Memorial hall will be the scene of the memorial services outlined by the G. A. R., American Legion, Spanish War veterans and affiliated organizations. The service station, 2 p. m. and will be followed by services in many churches.

5:30 a. m.—Parade starts from Main and Elm-sts and proceeds over city streets to cemeteries.

Decoration of graves in Woodlawn, Gethsemani and other cemeteries in Lima and vicinity.

2:30 p. m.—Memorial services at Memorial hall.

Harvey Basinger, assisted by John Berrick and M. M. Meyers, will be marshal of the day.

Included in the parade which will form at Elm-st facing Main-st, at 5:30 a. m., will be a platoon of police, American Legion, drum corps, city commission, Spanish War veterans, Boy Scouts, drum corps, Boy and girl Scouts, Salvation Army, National Guards, Women's Relief Corps,
Daughters of Veterans, Ladies of G.
A. R., American Legion auxiliary, the department and citizens in autumn.

Cemeteries to be visited are Woodlawn, Gethsemani, Old Ceme-
tary, St. Matthew cemetery, Green-lawn, Bethesda, Harrod, Auglaize,
Salem and Lafayette cemeteries.

LINE OF MARCH

Line of march of the parade will be north of Main-st, east on Spring-to Union-st, north on Union-st to Market-st, west to McDonel-st and then to the cemeteries in autumn.

Afternoon exercises will be held at 2:30 at Memorial Hall and will be of a combined memorial and patriotic character. The program follows:

Invocation, Rev. Martell George;
music, G. A. R. drum corps; music,
Virginia Peck; reading, Cynthia
Craig; solo, Mrs. Clarence Klinger; address, Dr. John Davison; music, drum corps, and benediction, Rev.
Martell George.

Members of the official program committee representing the various patriotic bodies are W. D. Hefner, general chairman, and M. M. Meyers and Mrs. Florence Stevenson.

Students of the Lima public schools will furnish flowers for the decorating of the graves, Superintendent J. F. Collins announced. As is the practice in the past eight years they will bring them to Central High Thursday afternoon and Friday morning.

Members of the G. A. R. and Women's Relief Corps will be taken to cemeteries in 35 automobiles furnished by the Lima Automobile club.

Business houses will remain closed Friday. Drug stores, groceries, and others who usually remain open for a few hours in the morning, are inclosed.

There will be no deliveries either by city or rural carriers at the post office. Postmaster Albert E. Gale announced. Altho mail will be collected as usual, there will be no window service, he stated.

Offices at the city building will remain open Friday morning, but will close at noon. City Manager Bingham announced Friday.

POLICE REFUSE TO GO TO SCENE OF WRECK HERE

Charge Made by Auto Dealer After Spectacular Smash-up In West End—Tree Broken Off by Truck—None Injured

Only two days after the city's motorcycle police highway patrol was inaugurated, charges were made Thursday that police refused to go to the scene of the Spring and Metcalf-sts, the scene of one of the most spectacular wrecks in recent months.

C. H. Black, local Chevrolet dealer and owner of one of the cars involved, declared that he called headquarters and asked that officers be sent to the scene immediately after the smash-up. He said he was told by the officer answering the phone that if no one was hurt, police were not interested and that it was up to him to fight it out thru a justice of the peace's court.

While no one was injured and practically no damage was done to the new car belonging to Black, when the machines came to rest after the crash, a Ford truck belonging to the Jacobs Tire and Battery Service and driven by L. D. King, 337 Elmwood-pl, was standing on the lawn in front of the home of A. Watson, 574 W. Spring-st, with a large maple tree, broken off at the ground, lying lengthwise over the truck. The truck was badly damaged.

In attempting to avert a collision, King said he swung his truck in and hit the tree, which stood just inside the curb on the corner in front of the Watson residence. It happened that the tree, while still alive, was badly decayed at the ground and broke easily, probably saving the driver from serious injury as the heavy tree fell directly over the driver's seat. King said he crawled out at it fell. He escaped without a scratch.

Black's car was driven by Paul Clough, manager of the used car department of Black's agency. Black argued that police should go to such wrecks as there might be circumstances in which the department would be interested.

A large crowd soon gathered at the scene of the wreck and considerable criticism of the police department was heard when it was learned that they had refused to answer the call, sent out from the Watson home.

COMEDIAN HELD ON GIRL'S STORY

Charged With Attack by Ziegfeld
Follies Beauty

NEW YORK.—(Associated Press)—Arrested on a warrant sworn out by Imogene Wilson, beauty of the Ziegfeld Follies, Frank Tinney, comedian, was brought to New York today from the jail at Mineola, his Long Island home town.

Miss Wilson yesterday appeared before a magistrate with her head and body bruised, the result of a beating she said was administered by Tinney while she was being interviewed by a reporter concerning her life story as a Broadway butterfly. Tinney repeated his assertion that in the summer of 1922 Smith asked him on the strength of a letter from President Harding to investigate the liquor situation. He worked for some time, Means said, on such an inquiry in New York.

Senator Wheeler then asked if he had anything to do with it.

"I did. The department of justice did. The department of justice asked me to investigate some oil matters in February, 1922," said Means. He went on to say that Richard Cole, an oil man, came to Washington and entertained a number of senators. Asked if Cole was attorney for Esteban Cattin who was planning a revolution in Lower California, Mexico, he replied:

"He was more a promoter. He had a lot of correspondence with the Association for Protection of American Rights in Mexico. That body had no other purpose than to create agitation and if necessary, revolution in Mexico."

Miss Wilson said Tinney had chastised her negro maid as well. The negro appeared in court with bandages.

It was just after she had entered her apartment accompanied by the newspaper man to whom she was relating her life story that Miss Wilson declared the attack took place.

Tinney was there when she entered, she said. "I kissed him," she related. "He said 'Come here hon-ey.' I did and he knocked me cold."

She said her troubles were due to Tinney's jealousy.

"Frank had been insanely jealous of me," she said. "He has detectives follow me. Of course I love him. I'm crazy about him but now I'm thru. I'll never speak to him again."

FOSDICK CASE IS DISPOSED OF

Baptist Minister is Asked to Join Presbyterians

MAIN ISSUE SIDESTEPPED

General Assembly Meets Next Year at Columbus

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich.—(United Press)—Columbus, Ohio, was picked as the 1925 meeting place of the Presbyterian general assembly, just before the 138th general assembly, which has been in session here, adjourned late yesterday.

The assembly also disposed of the Fosdick case, altho taking no definite action other than to invite Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, a Baptist holding a Presbyterian church pulpit in New York, to become member of the Presbyterian denomination.

Sidestepping of definite action in the Fosdick case was a defeat for the ultra fundamentalist forces, altho, however, not being classed as a victory for the modernists. The victory belongs to the third faction of the church—those who have urged that a compromise be effected.

MOTION DEFEATED

The Fosdick fight broke over the assembly Wednesday, when the fundamentalists attempted to throw the case upon the floor of the assembly for review. Bitter debate followed this suggestion. The motion was finally put to a vote and when it had been counted, those favoring such a course could only muster 311 votes to 504 for the opposition.

The assembly then took up the report of its judicial commission and voted to instruct the Presbytery of New York to wait upon Dr. Fosdick, informing him that if he is to continue to occupy a Presbyterian pulpit, he should embrace the Presbyterian faith.

LONDON TO OPEN DOORS TO VISITING ADVERTISERS

LONDON—All delegates to the International Advertising Convention in London in July will be given passes for all the London Underground Railways and for the bus services. Lord Ashfield, chairman of the directors of the Underground railways, has also extended an invitation to entertain the overseas delegates at Hampton Court during the week of the convention.

Several other British companies have sent invitations to the convention committee for various trips and entertainments, but the committee has had to decline many of them as the time has already been filled by the extensive trips to be made to Belfast, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Leeds, York, Manchester and other large cities. These excursions will be made during the week following the convention, and the railroad companies are arranging special trains for them.

JAPANESE LIGHT CRUISERS SHOW DEFECTS ON TRIALS

TOKIO—Japanese naval authorities are anxious about the performances of some of their newest light cruisers, which are being launched at the rate of two a year by domestic shipyards. Newspaper reports of defects are substantially confirmed by well informed experts.

The light cruiser Tama, 5,500 tons, developed engine trouble recently during her trials. It is understood, and a few days previously the smaller cruiser Yubare showed similar defects in her trials.

LIST OF VOTERS MAY SHRINK

Deductions and Duplications May Lower Total Number

Registration in Lima and Allen-co for the presidential election may show a considerable drop under the present figures, according to election board officers.

General registration is held every four years. In ordinary years, additional voters register, swelling the total. No names are deducted altho there is considerable loss from persons moving away and death. There is also considerable duplication to be taken into account.

There are according to present figures about 35,000 voters in the county. Only 21,166 voted however in the gubernatorial election in 1922. Presidential year is expected to bring a considerable number of the stay-at-homes to the polls.

Advance figures indicate that as many as 27,000 will vote next fall. The warmer the campaign waxes the greater the vote.

BOOKS ON BUSINESS ARE OBTAINED BY LIBRARY

A set of books entitled "Modern Business," published by the Alexander Hamilton Institute, has been received by the Lima Public Library, Miss Martha Gamble, chief librarian, announced Thursday.

Included in the set are the following titles: Business and the Man; Economics of Business; Organization and Control; Plant Management; Marketing and Merchandising; Advertising Principles; Cost Finding; Corporation Finance; Business Correspondence; Advertising Campaigns; Railway Traffic; Foreign Trade and Shipping; Banking; Domestic and Foreign Exchange; Insurance; Office Management; Exchanges and Speculation; Accounting Practice and Auditing; Financial and Business Statements; Investment; Business and the Government.

IRELAND TREASURE HUNT FAILS TO UNEARTH GOLD

VANCOUVER—Reports received here indicate that the efforts of the little steamer Ganner, which sailed from Vancouver last winter for Cocos Island in the Indian Ocean in search of chests of gold supposed to have been hidden in that vicinity by revolutionaries many years ago, have been unsuccessful.

The expedition carried all necessary working implements, including a metal detector, an invention of a Vancouver man. The detector was truthful in pointing to metal, great masses of which were uncovered. But it was the debris of some previous treasure-hunting expedition, iron shovels, tin cans, wheelbarrows, pick-axes and so forth.

ELECTRICIANS TO ORGANIZE

Steps Taken at Meeting Called by Electrical Inspector

LICENSES NOW REQUIRED

New State and City Laws Are in Effect, Contractors Told

Steps were taken at a meeting held Wednesday afternoon toward the organization into an association of electrical contractors in the city of Lima. Thirty contractors were present at the meeting, which was held in the commission chamber at the city hall at 2 p.m.

Those present at the meeting decided that electricians in the city should band together for mutual benefit, instead of "cutting each other's throats" as several expressed it.

Fred Newell 1130 W. Wayne-st., electrical inspector for the city, called the meeting at the instigation of City Manager C. A. Bingham, for the purpose of acquainting electricians in the city with new municipal laws which are to go into effect with the advent of a city inspector.

LICENSE NEEDED

Hitherto electricians were not required to be licensed but with the hiring of an inspector all are required to take them out. License fee is $25 and each one must give $100 bond as a protection for faulty jobs.

A week's grace will be given all who have not yet procured licenses, and Wednesday, June 4, will be the last day, City Manager Bingham announced Thursday.

It was decided that during the next few months meetings will be held weekly in order that city electricians may become acquainted with laws to which they just conform. At the next meeting arrangements will be made whereby they will comply with laws of the National Board of Fire Underwriters. Thursday, June 5, is the date set for the meeting.

Newell will assume his duties Tuesday, June 2, at a salary of $2,600 a year. His office will be located at Central Fire Station.

WAVE OF CRIME CAUSES NEWSPAPERS TO PROTEST

LISBON—The increase of crime of every kind in Portugal has inspired the important Lisbon newspaper Diario de Noticias to a denunciation of the conditions that make it possible.

"Bombs and pistols," it says "are the supreme arguments and means adopted to settle conflicts. We live in a society of criminals destined to eliminate itself by violence, and giving to the world the spectacle of a nation in which laws are non-existent and authority is impotent."

"There is no protection given the police who naturally find it safer to shut their eyes to crimes they should prevent, and a demoralizing fact is found in the constant escape of dangerous criminals from the prisons and fortresses of the country."

PERFECT MARK IS MADE BY LIMA

City Get 100 Percent Credit in Birth Registration

SURVEY MADE OF STATE

Rural Districts Establish High Marks, Reports Show

One hundred per cent birth registration in Lima is recorded in the federal bureau of census report, which was issued Thursday for the state, including Lima as one of the 14 cities in Ohio with a perfect record.

Record for Allen co. fell from the perfect mark to 77 per cent, or three per cent above the 94 mark established by Putnam co.

In Lima the bureau of census found 13 births, the same number that was reported in the county. The bureau of census found 33 births or one less than the report submitted by county health officials.

Delphos with 10 births recorded a 100 per cent mark in the state survey to determine the accuracy of birth registration.

Twenty-nine counties and the cities therein, 62 communities in all, were tested by the federal bureau of the census. The county districts showed an average of 93.3 per cent and the cities, 91.5 per cent.

Three counties and 14 cities showed 100 per cent. Delaware, Lorain and Summit were the counties that made perfect grades. Cities in the 100 per cent list are Lima, Delphos, Conneaut, Martins Ferry, Bellaire, Norwood, Elyria, Cuyahoga Falls, Dalton, Findlay, Dover, Marietta, Greenville and Wooster.

Lorain and the city of Elyria made twin records at the top, but the city of Lorain, with 90 per cent, was not only below the average for all communities, but also was below the urban rate of 91.6.

Cincinnati, with 473 births reported during the period covered by the survey—October and November, 1923—made a percentage of 98.2, but Hamilton co., with 50 births reported, made only 96 per cent.

Cuyahoga co. was not included in the test, which cuts out Cleveland, and similarly Franklin co. with Columbus, Lucas, with Toledo and Stark with Canton and its other cities, were omitted from the list of counties with large urban populations. Mahoning co. made a low record with 75.6 percent, but Youngstown showed 92.1 percent and East Youngstown 96.9, while Struthers did not record a birth during the two months, and therefore had no percentage.

The city of Marion made only 66.6 percent, but Marion co. made 94.7. In Montgomery the county was low with 84.3 percent, while Dayton was just over the wire with 90.3.

MURDERER OF BOY NOT A MORON

eratic, unrelenting successful business man. His heart was wrapped up in the boy.

"Probably someone lost money in dealing with Franks, or felt injured in some other way. He nursed his resentment and decided to make him pay. That would have been the course of a paranoid such as I have described.

"I do not think it was mere bhevish antagonism toward wealth. The person wanted money and at the same time wanted to hit the father where he would feel it.

"Murder was not intended. But the boy put up such a fight that great force was required to keep him quiet, and he died."

There is another possibility, according to Dr. Krohn, which would bring more than a single criminal into the case.

"When a woman is possessed with 'cussedness,' she is almost insane," he says.

"Suppose a man keeps repeating to his wife the wrongs he thinks he suffered from Jacob Franks. He dies and her troubles increase. She becomes infuriated against Franks and decides to wreak vengeance."

"A woman can always get some help of a man to help do anything, and they might have done this."

DEATH IS PROBED

Midshipman from Ohio is Drowned at Annapolis

ANNAPOLIS, Md.—(United Press)—A board of inquiry at the naval academy will investigate the drowning of Midshipman Leicester Smith, 23, Kent, Ohio.

His death yesterday was at the close of the annual frolic of christening the class rings when second class men are tossed into the water. Many of those who had been tossed in were on two small boats when the excitement had subsided.

His body was seen floating a few feet from the overturned boat, partly pinned under by a sail. Comrades worked over the body two hours. Authorities at the academy intimate the investigation may mean doing away with the annual frolic.

Smith had worked up from the enlisted ranks of the navy to the academy.

He served in the navy several years and at one time was a chief quartermaster.

Smile Costly; Worth $20,000, Actress Claims

PARIS—It is by careless driving when out with a perfect lady that gets her into an accident that robs her of her smile, you'll pay for it, and if the lady in question is a professional smiler, it comes pretty high here in France.

Twenty thousand francs is what Mme. Jane Lugar, a musical comedy actress, has just received as damages from her motoring escort of a year ago. The smashup she figured left her with scars on the right ear, the forehead and the lips. In seving up the last-named wounds, the face was so contorted as to make Mme. Lugar's famed toothlike smile a thing of the past. Hence the lawsuit.

12 PERSONS DIE IN STORM

50 Injured When Cyclone Sweeps Thru Oklahoma

PROPERTY DAMAGE HEAVY

30 Treated in Armory as Improvised Hospital

WEETUMKA, Okla.—(United Press)—Twenty known dead, more than 50 injured, several missing and property damage estimated at $100,000 was the toll of cyclones which scourged southeastern Oklahoma last night.

Wetumka was hardest hit. The twister swept a path a block wide and five blocks long thru the residential district. Ten were killed outright and 40 injured. Fourteen of the most seriously injured were taken to hospitals at Henryetta. Thirty were treated in the national guard armory as an improvised hospital while the homeless and slightly injured were cared for by other residents.

The dead: W. L. Ramsey.

W. R. Armstrong, wife and baby. H. A. Woodruff and wife. Infant daughter of Edward Cole and three unidentified.

Two persons were killed and two injured at Warner, Okla.

The dead: William Winklepeck, 43; Madge Ward, 14.

WIRE DOWN

Wire communications throughout this section of the state were disrupted.

Red Cross representatives arrived today to help in caring for the injured and take the place of relief workers who labored throughout the night searching the debris for the victims.

The storm dropped into the better residential section, traveling in an easterly direction. Little rain accompanied the twister. Only a funnel shaped cloud traveling in a leisurely manner was noticed by residents. Witnesses in other sections of the town declared little breeze was felt, but its path was swept clean.

Police and volunteer workers realizing the catastrophe, waited breathlessly for its passage and then started their search for the victims. Physicians from surrounding towns arrived during the night and conditions were orderly today with the national guard unit here with the American Legion in charge.

Displaying The Flag

FOR MEMORIAL DAY

PUT the flag at half-mast until noon. From noon until sunset let it fly from the top.

Always in half-masting the flag, first run it to the top of the mast. Also, run a half-masted flag to the top before hauling it down.

IN GENERAL

THE Stars and Stripes always claim the place of honor, the forefront, the right, or the highest elevation.

In the horizontal position, the starry field should be at the upper left. Vertically, the field should be at the upper right.

To honor the passing of others, civilians should hold the baton against the left shoulder.

Don't
USE the flag as a handkerchief—

SIT on the flag—

SEW the flag on a sofa pillow—

TWIST the flag into fantastic shapes—

USE the flag in advertising—

LET it touch the ground or the deck of a boat.

Child-birth

WHEN the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined.

An eminent physician, Dr. F. E. Hartman, of Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says:

"After my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last 'Mother's Friend' and bad no time to get a doctor, I had to use instruments very quickly, about ten or fifteen minutes."

"Mother's Friend" is a mother's aid grandmother who did not work today and meanwhile

BROWN'S COUNSEL ASK CONTINUANCE

Postponement of Former Bishop's Trial is Sought

OUTLINE OF DEFENSE GIVEN

Authority Sought to Back Accused Churchman

CLEVELAND.—(Associated Press)—An affidavit setting forth expected answers to a few of the 400-odd queries in the defense questionnaire, was filed at the start of today's proceedings in the trial of Right Rev. William M. Brown, former Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Arkansas. It was in support of the motion for continuance, filed yesterday, which sought depositions from practically all bishops both domestic and foreign.

The selected questions deal with generalities on the doctrine of the church. They brought out that the relying on public utterances and writings, expected to show that many changes had occurred in doctrine by changes in the opinions of clergy, especially in the last 25 years.

The lack of any fixed authority to make or change was discussed in the affidavit and it set out that the defense expected to prove by the bishops that Brown was right in taking such things as the Virgin birth, bodily resurrection and ascension and association of Christ in a symbolic rather than literal sense.

The defense said it expected church leaders to reply negatively to questions as to whether God was an objective reality. All the 327 questions relative to fundamental interpretation of the Bible were lumped by the affidavit in a general belief that the consensus of opinion among educated men rejected that method of explaining scripture.

GRANT HOME WILL BE MEMORIAL

$10,000 Fund Sought to Repair St. Louis House

ST. LOUIS.—(Associated Press)—Dilapidated, its occasional green shutters nailed tight, its front and side walls spattered with glaring signs, such is the present condition of the quaint old red brick building in which Ulysses S. Grant, commander-in-chief of the Federal forces in the civil war, and later president of the United States, spent so many happy years of his life.

In this building the great military leader, then a Lieutenant married Miss Julia T. Dent in 1848, and here he lived for several years following his graduation from West Point, when assigned to Jefferson Barracks.

Here is planned a shrine, in the full sense of the word, to St. Louis' humble but great son, a home for mementos of his life and a headquarters for patriotic societies and organizations that care to use it.

Solicitation of relics of pre-civil war days and later years, which will remind visitors of Grant's greatness, already has begun in St. Louis and throughout the country.

The property, acquired at auction by John H. Gundlach of St. Louis, president of the Grant-Dent memorial association, was turned over by him to the association and a campaign has been launched by commercial and patriotic organizations to raise $10,000, that the old house may be restored.

Conductor Cary Varner, of New York, said the man hoarded his car at Columbus, paid a cash fare to Hibernia and did not arouse any suspicion. At the first stop west of Hibernia he ordered the conductor to let him off. As the bandit started for the vestibule he suddenly turned and holding a gun in front of the conductor, shouted, "stick 'em up."

The bandit then ordered the eight passengers, Varner and Motorman Ned Rue, also of Newark into the smoking compartment.

Search was begun by the bandit who did not take jewelry or other valuables but only money.

Completing his search the bandit bolted out the rear door and disappeared. A short time later the bandit entered the store of Edward Staudt at Hibernia and ordered occupants there to "stick 'em up."

He left without getting any money.

Staudt and those in the store sounded an alarm and citizens of the village hastily formed a posse and started in pursuit. He was traced to a weed grown field but escaped thru the posse's lines.

YES! 'TIS TRUE, RAIN ON FRIDAY

"You can't blame me for howling," Skat said as he glanced over the weather report for Decoration Day. "I have been planning for days to take in baseball games at Delphos and spend a few enjoyable hours at Russell's Point, but rain will spoil everything. Not satisfied with handing out rain Thursday night and Friday with colder weather on Friday, I won't be surprised if it snows. This weather is enough to make any cat holler. Here it is near the start of June and instead of sunshine we are threatened with snow."

CHICAGO.—(United Press)—Unexplained circumstances in the shooting of Mrs. Laurota Thompson Alberts young and beautiful wife of Albert Alberts, New York, were investigated today by police.

Mrs. Alberts, who was riding in a taxicab last night, with Victor Hasterlik, Chicago banker, was shot above the heart and may die. Both Mrs. Alberts and Hasterlik said it was an attempted suicide but police officers said the woman must have fired with her left hand to have inflicted the wound. Mrs. Albert is right handed.

"We were in love," Mrs. Alberts said at the hospital where she was taken after the shooting but I was recently married to Alberts and Victor had a wife.

"Life was so bitter and death seemed so sweet and so I shot myself."

According to their story, the couple met after banking hours and went for a taxicab ride. Mrs. Alberts told Hasterlik of her desire to commit suicide and he took the gun from her in a struggle. Hasterlik handed it back however, when she promised to "forget it." A few minutes later she shot herself. Their stories agreed in most details.

TALKS WITH HUSBAND

Mrs. Alberts, who was 24 and strikingly beautiful, asked at the Dispatch, in answer to Crabb's questions, asked in a speech last Saturday before the Buckeye Republican Club here.

"I am propt to respond to the Dispatch a responsible journal, rather than to Mr. Crabb himself."

Crabb's statement said, "for a reason which I am sure will appeal to every one who knows Mr. Crabb, if he knows as little about business as he does about the office he is occupying any explanation would not be comprehensive to him." These are the facts:

"More than a year ago as I recall, Mr. Archibald White asked if I would join a number of representative citizens from Columbus in endeavoring to meet the preliminary requirements in the task which he had assumed of constructing another modern hotel at the state capital. As I recall, Mr. White needed the assistance in making an initial payment on either title to lease or to land itself. The details I have not retained because as a matter of fact my service was more as an obligation to Mr. White himself."

Authorities were checking up on the stories told by Mrs. Alberts and Hasterlik and will question Alberts on his arrival here from New York.

Police announced the finding of the following note in the woman's purse:

"In case I commit suicide, my name is Laurota Alberts. Talk to Mr. Hasterlik, vice-president of the Independence State Bank."

Mrs. Alberts has known Hasterlik for several years and prior to her marriage worked in his office.

RATE IS SLASHED

Discount Cut by Cleveland Reserve Bank Granted

WASHINGTON.—(Associated Press)—The Federal Reserve Board has granted the application of the Cleveland Reserve Bank to reduce the discount rate from 4 1/2 to 4 per cent, effective June 1.

Similar action was taken recently by the New York bank. Federal Reserve officers said they granted the application on the belief of Cleveland bank officials that the reduction might increase loans by the bank and stimulate its earning assets. This would bear out previous statements that the reserve banks as a whole have not earned sufficient profits on their operations in the last few months.

SLAYER OF WOMAN SENTENCED

Hoffman Convicted of Killing Mrs. Bauer on Long Island

GIVEN TERM IN SING SING

Murder in Second Degree is Verdict of Jury

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—Harry L. Hoffman, charged with slaying Mrs. Maud A. Bauer on a lonely Staten Island road, was found guilty today of murder in the second degree. County Judge Tiernan imposed sentence of twenty years to life imprisonment in Sing Sing.

Hoffman, a motion picture operator, is married and the father of two children.

On the afternoon of March 25, the body of pretty Mrs. Maud Bauer, young mother of two daughters, was found by the side of a lonely Staten Island road. She had been shot, beaten and strangled and there was evidence that she had successfully fought off an assailant.

Witnesses told of having seen Mrs. Bauer driving her mother and daughters in her automobile, stalled the motor in the mud when she swerved to avoid collision with a truck. Her mother told of a passing motorist, a lone man, who stopped and tendered his services to Mrs. Bauer as she was walking toward a distant house to seek assistance.

BULLET HOLE IN CAR

Hoffman maintained his innocence and a fellow motion picture operator, Racy Parker, told the police Hoffman had been with him in the projection room of a theatre at the time Mrs. Bauer was murdered. But the police had learned that Hoffman three days after the murder, had sent to his brother a gun of the calibre of the automatic pistol with which Mrs. Bauer had been shot. They also found a bullet hole in the upholstery of his motor car, identical to that described by those who had seen the mystery motorist.

arker, a few days later, repudiated the alibi he had offered for Hoffman, declaring his fellow operator had asked him to "frame" it as he feared the police would arrest him for the Bauer murder.

At the trial Barbara Fabs, a 13-year-old school girl, identified Hoffman as the man who had offered Mrs. Bauer a ride and a firearms expert declared that only bullets from Hoffman's gun could have caused the death of Mrs. Bauer.

The case went to the jury last night.

Hoffman, on his way to a prison van after sentence had been imposed, passed within a few feet of District Attorney Fitch and shrieked:

"Now you and your lying witnesses can divide up your reward. I am innocent and you know it."

Later Hoffman collapsed in his cell and slept.

O. N. U. HOLDS ITS COMMENCEMENT

Harry M. Daugherty Speaks; Mrs. Harding a Visitor

ALA.—(Special)—Annual commencement exercises for graduates of Ohio Northern University were held here Wednesday. The commencement was held in the afternoon and the dedication of the Harding Memorial Law building was in the morning.

Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general, was the speaker at the commencement service as well as the dedication. Mrs. Warren G. Harding was present and sat upon the platform but did not take an active part either in the dedication or the commencement.

Play for good government, warning against tinkering with the nation's credit law and a word of encouragement to ambitious young men and women were all contained in Daugherty's address to the graduates.

Judge Edward S. Matthias, of the Ohio Supreme Court and an alumnus of Ohio Northern, gave a short talk prior to Daugherty's speech. President Smith of the university, was chairman and presented the diploma.

MANY KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Munitions Magazines, Artillery Dumps Near Bucharest Blown up

BURSTING SHELLS HIT CITY

Windows for Miles Around Scene Are Shattered

BUCHAREST—(United Press)—Many persons were killed and injured and the royal families of Rumania and Greece barely escaped with their lives when munitions magazines and artillery dumps near Bucharest blew up in a series of deafening explosions that continued throughout Wednesday.

The capital was under fire of a rain of bursting shells which shattered windows in every part of the city and fell in the courtyard of the royal palace. One shell exploded with terrific effect on the exact spot where King Ferdinand had been standing a few seconds before.

Parliament adjourned as the intensity of the explosions increased. There was a panic in schools throughout the city and these were closed to permit the children to seek safety in their homes.

Sparks from a switch engine apparently started the conflagration igniting a small arms ammunition magazine about two miles from the city. The first explosion was at 10 a. m. Wednesday. The first dump to go was in the center of a larger one and flames spread rapidly, exploding a series of magazines. The blasts kept up irregularly until 4 p. m. when the flames reached the artillery dumps.

SERIES OF BLASTS

Then began a series of deafening explosions and shells began to fall in every direction.

King Ferdinand and his war minister, General Maresco, rushed to the scene of the fire started by one of the detonating shells. The general snatched the king back from a particularly dangerous spot and a few seconds later a shell landed just where Ferdinand had been standing.

Meanwhile the inhabitants of Bucharest were in a panic. Those in the western part of the city, nearer the dumps, fled eastward, many believing the city was being bombed.

The shocks from the exploding dumps caused windows to break throughout the city so that a constant tinkle of falling glass accompanied the disorders.

The royal family with King George and Queen Elizabeth of Greece, who are here in exile, hastily evacuated the summer residence at Cotroceni.

Robbery of the Bungalow Candy shop, Market and Baxter-sts., was frustrated Wednesday night when a lone prowler was frightened away shortly before the arrival of police who discovered a broken transom over a rear door.

Neighbors attracted by the crash of glass saw the man at the rear door. Police were called, but shortly before their arrival the prowler suspected a trap and fled south on Baxter-st.

Frequent thefts of candy from his store at 648 W. Elm-st. by persons who enter with a skeleton key were reported to police by L. O. McElman, 179 S. Jackson-st., who reported that there is a common lock on the door and that almost every morning he discovers that the store has been visited during the night, probably by boys who own a skeleton key.

Thieves visited the chicken coop at the home of E. L. Hunt, 318 E. McElroy-st., Thursday night and took four hens, Hunt reported to police.

Another automobile was added to the list of stolen automobiles when A. J. Welly, 1021 N. Elizabeth-st. told police his machine had been stolen Thursday night from S. Elizabeth-st.

Fellow Workmen Administer First Aid to Shock Victim

Pete Basinger, 38, of 817 W. Wayne-st., lies at the point of death at the City hospital, suffering from burns received Wednesday afternoon when he came in contact with a live wire on an oil switch at the rear of the Robbav sub-station of the Ohio Power Co.

Basinger, it is said, was painting a transformer, when his right arm came in contact with a live wire, sending 33,000 volts of electricity thru his body. He was severely burned about the arms and chest and sustained several scalp wounds when he was knocked to the ground striking his head. Both of Basinger's arms were paralyzed from the shock.

Artificial respiration was administered by fellow workmen. Williams & Davis ambulance removed him to the City hospital where little hope is held for his recovery.

Basinger has been employed with the Ohio Power Co. only a short time. He has a wife and two children, Kathleen and Jack. Calvin Basinger of Basinger's Jewelry Store is a brother.

DISEASE GERMS FLOURISH IN GERMAN PAPER MONEY

Investigators in Berlin found that coined money is virtually innocuous, owing to the self-disinfecting action of the metal itself, and because its small, smooth surface prevents development of the ger

Old Stuff Warmed Over

According to reports and accusations, borne out by the newspaper accounts of the meeting itself, the clerk of the Board of Education is making up his own minutes, regardless of what was actually done in legal session.

This is old stuff, often pulled by corporations. But rather new when introduced on civic boards. It makes it possible to get away with anything, and have the records testify to the fact. If the actual proceedings can be erroneously put into the records, there is no reason why the vote of the board cannot be as easily changed. It is not forgery, because nothing is changed, just written up the way the majority so desires, and then approved two weeks later.

Crabbe-League Scrap

Argument between Attorney General Crabbe, child of the Anti-Saloon League, and the league over the former's ruling on "card men" is growing warm. The attorney general says he is willing to go before the people and defend his action in knocking out this menace to the public. The league is angry with its former "pet" and may act to help bring about his downfall at the coming election by bringing out other candidates against him.

We know nothing of the legal angle involved. The attorney general says he and his entire staff concurred on the legality of his ruling against the "card men," so we are inclined to accept that as final. We do believe that a good piece of work was done when these men were put out of business and cannot see how the Anti-Saloon League can consistently hold out for them in face of the facts brought out in connection with their operation.

We hold no brief for the present attorney general. He has been unpopular in many respects, but his action on the "card men" at least was good, common sense.

The City's Income

Comes a suggestion from a former city official that while hunting for income City Hall might introduce the Bicycle and Business Truck tag at a dollar a year. It is estimated there are 10,000 bicycles in use in the city and between five hundred and one thousand trucks of all kinds used for business. Bicycles pay no road tax, and trucks for business only the usual state license. This would mean between $10,000 and $12,000 a year, which taken with an annual license fee of $100 to $500 for ginger ale and soda dens, would pay the police and firemen during the summer months.

The Tipping Curse

The un-American practice of tipping continues in our midst. It flourishes in practically every line where the public is concerned. It is to be regretted.

We fail to see why we should hand a waiter a coin for giving us service when we go into a restaurant. The management should not encourage it, in fact should bar it. Neither can we see any good reason for handing a tip to a filling station attendant for giving us service. Nor can we justify the system of passing out tips under any circumstances.

A restaurant should encourage patronage and not petty robbery, for the tipping curse amounts to that in some places, by serving good food and giving good service at all times and then charging a price that will permit good wages for those who serve the public.

The same should be true of every business.

Concerns that hang out signs reading "NO TIPPING ALLOWED" will get our permanent business and we believe a big percentage of the public feels the same way. It might be a worthwhile experiment for some of the places where employees are driving away business by continually working for gratuities and snubbing those who do not "kick in."

The Planning Commission

The City Kommish is to be complimented on its action for a planning commission. Market-st west already illustrates the need. Neither the Buick nor the Ford garages, should have been permitted to build out beyond the alignment at the first alley west of McDonel. The builders were within the law, however, and correction can only come by condemnation proceedings later. Other structures in that block, and some are now being planned, should be set back, for Market-st will need all its width in the years to come.

Radio is stimulating the business of electric light and telegraph companies. It is also a gold mine for the copper, rubber and other industries. Illustrating how one industry creates business for others.

A factory gets a lot of orders. In filling them, it generates business for railroads, makers of materials, power companies, coal mines, not to mention that machinery keeps wearing out and has to be replaced. Industrially we are as dependent on each other as the tiny fossils which, clustered in millions, make up a coral reef.

Europe's troubles now are chiefly financial, for the people are progressively working harder and the war's destruction is being rebuilt with amazing speed.

And the financial situation over there is improving in the best possible way—governments living within their incomes. In the first four months of 1924, German government spent about 250 million gold marks less than it collected in taxes, etc. France in the same period saved a surplus of 1220 million francs. Italy, too, makes a bright showing, her government revenue and spending almost balancing in the last nine months.

Annual Surprise

BY HAL COCHRAN

If you're feelin' like me, you will surely agree, there's a kick in the thought of a swim. You can't call it rash when you're swimmin' to splash in the water with tiger and vim.

When comes the hot weather folks gather together and talk of a picnic or two. While beach ads you're scanning, you're burningly planning on what is the best thing to do.

Of course, in the end, you can always depend that you'll motor or walk to a beach. A swim is the thing that is certain to bring all the people who live within reach.

Then you gladly recall that, quite late in the fall, a garment for bathing was stored. So out comes the trunk where the suit has been sunk and it's due to be quickly explored.

You hunt and you hunt, it's the annual hunt. Then you find it and shortly you don it. But then you're confused for it cannot be used 'cause the moths have been dining upon it.

IODIN IN TABLE SALT

Simple goitre is endemic in Michigan and later the majority of people who use salt will learn the availability of the iodin-containing salt in the market. It tastes just like any good salt, and it costs the same as other free-running salt.

The effectiveness of a suitable iodin ration in preventing goitre is absolutely established. The explanation for the startling prevalence of goitre in some regions is simply the lack of sufficient iodin in the food and drinking water. The harmlessness of the very minute quantity of iodin required to prevent simple goitre (and to cure some cases) is equally well established. Get your iodin. Get it from any good grocer now.

NATURE'S DANGER SIGNALS

Nervousness, melancholia, backache, headache and pain in the side are all nature's danger signals which indicate some ailment peculiar to a woman. When such warning symptoms appear women may avoid much pain and suffering if they will rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as its tonic, strengthening influence speedily removes the cause and restores the system to a healthy, normal condition.

JUST FOLKS

BY EDGAR A. GUEST

HOUSEHOLD EXPENSES

At the first of the year said my Ma to me:

"In matters financial now let me agree,

Let us make an arrangement and start in anew;

I'll pay the household expenses to you

Will pay the insurance, the coal and repairs,

The club dues and bills and the clothing Bud wears."

Said I to my Nellie: "That may be fine—

The house bills are yours, and the others are mine."

Says Nellie to me, without shame or regret:

"Will you stop at the store? There's a steak I must get,

And some bread and some tea and your favorite cheese;

Let me have money to pay for it, please.

I've forgotten my purse,"—I say:

"Charge it, my dear!"

She smilingly answered: "I'm not know in here!"

I just want to pick up these few things I lack,"

And I'm stung for a five-spot which never comes back.

No household expenses, I take it are all

The charges against us which happen to fall.

When I made that allowance I tacked that I

Would have taught but my own simple trinkets to buy;

But here is a wedding gift sent to her niece,

And here is the bill for a funeral piece,

And she flings it at me and lays it down flat:

"You surely don't think that I ought to pay that!"

When I saw "would be nice" some slight favor to show,

She answers: "It would. Not with my money, tho!"

She'll get up a dinner for my friends, but still

It must be understood that I'm paying the bill.

I suppose there are men who lead

regular lives

And keep to the contracts they make with their wives,

And never get stung as my Nellie stings me,

But as Nellie remarks: "Oh, what brutes they must be!"

"Little Johnny Jones"

The turf, with all its fascinating intrigues and desperate strategies of gamblers to win by hook or crook, form the plot of "Little Johnny Jones," which opened Wednesday at the Lyric theatre.

The picture is unusually entertaining not only because of the novel story but particularly in the comedy acting of Johnny Hines, who in the starring role, carries off honors by his brilliant work.

The story is about Johnny Jones, an American jockey who never fails to bring his horse first to the winning post. He comes to England to win the Derby and a bride at the same time. Robert Anstead, a professional gambler, out to get the race by fair means or foul, accuses the young jockey of agreeing to throw away the race and produces documents to prove it. When this plot fails, the jockey contrives to have the horse pass to victory at the last stretch. But this, too, fails in the end.

The supporting cast consists of Margaret Seddon, Saturday, Margaret Seddon, Herbert Prior, Molly Malone and Pauline French.

"Little Johnny Jones" will be succeeded on Sunday by "Daughters of Today" with Patsy Ruth Miller and Ralph Graves.

Legion Film at Orpheum

"The Whipping Boss" is a motion dramatization of one of the most shameful chapters in American history, Russell G. Creviston, National Adjutant of the American Legion, at Adjutant recently when asked about the picture, starring Bedford and Lloyd Hughes. It is being shown throughout the United States under the auspices of the American Legion.

The picture, which has been breaking theatre records in many cities, will be shown at the Orpheum theatre for three days starting Friday under the sponsorship of the Dium Corp. of Paul Gallagher, Post of the American Legion.

The picture is founded on the famous Tabert case, the case of a North Dakota youth who died from being beaten in a southern prison camp. The case and conditions were first exposed by a Post of the American Legion and the investigation which followed resulted in abolition of the convict leasing system in the states where the tragedy occurred.

After exhibiting the dramatized version of the Tabert case, the Legion hopes to assist still more in bringing public attention to a great evil which still exists in some states according to Creviston.

Mainly About People

There will be no meeting of the W. F. A. of the Maccabees Friday night, officers announced Thursday.

Cedar Grove No. 24 Woodmen cir. will hold their memorial service Sunday evening at the Epiphany M. E. church, it was announced yesterday.

Rev. Walter D. Cole, former pastor of Trinity M. E. church and at present holding a pastorate in Boulder, Colorado, is in Lima for a week or ten days stay. He will preach the morning sermon at Trinity church Sunday, assistant pastor Hugo S. Graham announces.

All directors and officers of the Elida Firemen's Co. were reelected at the annual meeting Thursday. The are: directors, E. S. Bushnell, T. D. Brune, G. E. Pifer, G. P. Dillane and T. C. Barnes; officers, D. S. Bushnell, president; T. D. Brune, vice-president and general manager, W. F. Livingston, treasurer, and J. F. Fast, secretary.

David Steiner and Ira Malone, both of Lima, are to be graduated at the College of Wooster, June 11. Each will receive a bachelor of science degree.

More than 50 women, members of the Care Community league, turned out Tuesday evening to hear Mrs. F. H. Rothe explain the making of a home-made clothes cooker and its use. County Farm Agent Ridge announced Thursday. The meeting was held in Fano.

Economical gathering of cream was discussed at a meeting of 25 Amherst farmers held Wednesday night at the township house in Conant. H. J. Ridge, county farm agent, said Thursday. A similar meeting will be held at Lafayette on Thursday night, he announced.

Teachers for the coming school term hired at the Elida village board of education at a meeting held Wednesday night at Elida High school are: Superintendent T. W. Williams; English and Latin, Marian Shaffer; first and second grades, Elsie Weaver; third and fourth grades, Mary Holzapfel; fifth and sixth grades, Ida Haerstick. Miss Shaffer and Miss Holzapfel are the only new teachers of the five. The remaining three were re-hired.

Allen-co Farm Bureau board of directors' meeting scheduled for Saturday has been postponed, H. J. Ridge, county farm agent, announced Thursday. The meeting will be held some time next week, he said. Reasons for the postponement is that members of the board are too busy at present planting their corn.

were from Findlay, Spencerville, Menden and Lima.

Plans for a concerted membership drive throughout this district were outlined during the business session at Central high school Wednesday night.

FRED HUNKER SPEAKS.

Fred Hunker, of Cleveland, past grand master of the organization, was the principal speaker. The auditorium at Central High school was packed to the doors when he spoke briefly and eloquently on "Pythianism."

After opening at 3 p. m. with registration, all local as well as visiting knights, the grand officers of the lodge and the Boy's band, of Springfield were guests of the Lima Lodge at a dinner at the Hotel Barr at 6 p. m.

Twenty-two boys ranging in age from 11 to 14 years, members of the band and orphans of deceased Pythians, led the parade which started at 6:30 p. m. from the corner of Elizabeth and Spring-sts. From there the parade proceeded west to McDonell-st, north to Market-st, east to Union-st, north to High-st and west to the Central high school auditorium, where the business session convened.

Included in the parade was Lima's thirty lodges from the Lima district were represented with from 10 to 200 delegates each.

Included in the lodge, represented were Columbus, Sandusky, Cleveland, and several members from Los Angeles Calif.

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With Othine—Double Strength

Seven hundred Knights of Pythias, representing 30 Ohio lodges, gathered at Castle Hall Wednesday at 3 p. m. in the annual district jubilee. They came at the special invitation of the Lima lodge.

This meeting was the first of a series of district gatherings which are to be held to boost Lima for the 1925 state convention. It is thought that Lima has a good chance to get the convention altho several cities are after it.

Rathbone Lodge 400 of Findlay, performed degree work for the taking in of 18 candidates at Castle Hall Wednesday evening. Candidates are after it.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of Othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

EXQUISITELY APPOINTED TEA GIVEN

SOCIAL CALENDAR

FRIDAY
Grand Opening of the Shawnee Country Club, Sunday, 6:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Miss Frances Collier, owner.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Fisher, S. Elizabeth, leave Friday for Washington, D. C., for a two weeks stay. They will attend the National Real Estate Men's convention.

The meeting of the Garden club, scheduled for next Monday, June 2, has been indefinitely postponed. The meeting, the smartest and most elaborate affair of the season. Honored guests at the party were Mrs. Warren Parmenter and Miss Ruth Parmenter, a bride-elect.

Mrs. Parmenter and two guests of honor received the guests who numbered more than 20, in the private dining room, where the stately palms were used and made a most artistic background. Tables for the tea were arranged in the large living room, one large table where close friends of the honored guests were seated, centering the room.

Appointments of the tables were of gold and bronze. A lighted fountain surrounded by a wreath of the gold and bronze tulips and calendulae centered the large table, at either end of which were large platter baskets of the same flowers. Gold candles in the crystal holders and tied with gold ribbons were also used. On the smaller tables crystal baskets of the tulips and calendulae were used, together with the gold candles in the crystal holders. The basket holders were of the same artistic shades.

During the tea musical numbers were given by a stringed orchestra, under the direction of B. Harley Hollister.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. John Galvin, Mrs. M. S. Thompson, Mrs. A. T. Macdonell, Mrs. M. P. Cole, Mrs. W. L. Reid, Mrs. Gwynne, Woodruff, Mrs. George Macdonell, Mrs. Seward Folsom, Miss Gail Farnsworth, and Miss Florence Price.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Glenn Potter of Chicago, Miss Margaret Finn of Columbus, and Miss Elizabeth Nanson of Tiffin.

Mrs. Evelyn Fletcher Copp of New York City will arrive within a few days to be the guest of Mrs. Leah M. Butler, W. Springfield.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

SUSIE SMART at the Shawnee Country Club will be allowed a girl of 16 to use the room for parties, stationery, stamps, etc.—B.

There is no hard and fast rule. It depends upon the parents' means.

Even if your allowance is not so large as you think it should be, perhaps it is all your parents can afford. If so, you should accept it. Or, perhaps they hesitate to give you more because they do not feel that you expend your allowance to the best advantage.

Why not suggest to them that you regularly perform certain tasks about the home in return for moderate payment? In this way you may be able to increase your allowance. Furthermore, if you earn the money you will understand its value better and perhaps will be disposed to manage it to the best possible advantage.

Dear Miss Smart: I am going to be 16 next month and have a girl with a young man for whom I am to be used for myself. This does not seem right. Should it be proper for us to exchange photographs? He is going to college soon and has asked me to write for him.

There is no reason why you should not give the young man your photograph and accept his. It is all right for a girl to give her photograph to a man when a real friendship or love exists between them. Any objections to a girl's giving a man her photograph are in cases where the acquaintance is merely a brief or casual one.

Dear Miss Smart: I had a tongue-tie a few weeks ago and like him very much. He has treated me out a few times and has never invited me for me. But I never told him about it and he has not asked me for him either.

Miss Kate Campbell was an only guest. Members of the club include Misses Carolyn Miller, Laura Thomas, Dorothy Hensler, Florence Shumaker, Cora, Margarette and Clara Krein, Katherine Snyder, Helen Hoerner and Edna Hirschler.

Miss Elizabeth Newson has returned to her home in Tiffin, after spending a week as the guest of Miss Dorothy Cole, W. Market-st.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ackerman and daughter, Miss Louise, State-st, will motor to Indianapolis on Friday to attend the automobile races.

OTTAWA SOCIETY

Miss Eleanor A. Meyers has returned from an over-Sunday visit in Toledo.

A meeting of Putnam chapter of the Eastern Star will be held Thursday night, at which time there will be induction of candidates. A covered dish supper will be served.

Mrs. Glen Gillegle will open her home, Thursday night, for the meeting of the Royal Neighbors' club, which will resume meetings at this time.

Mrs. L. N. Welde was hostess, Wednesday afternoon, for the Wednesday Five Hundred club, welcoming a number of guests in addition to members at this meeting.

Mrs. Grace Ward Knox, of Indianapolis, is visiting with many friends in Ottawa. Mrs. Knox was a former member of Perkins.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Cahill and son, Alessius Cahill, were in Columbus, Ohio Sunday for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Fisher, who was Miss Nellie Rice before her marriage, is very ill.

A number of friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Ida Cole, E. Elm-st, Tuesday evening, complimenting her on her birthday anniversary. Contests and games were enjoyed and a dainty luncheon was served. Those enjoying the evening were Mesdames Miller, Susan McKissick, Laura Stemen, Mildred McElroy, Ella Ashburn, Margaret Mann, Irene Myers, Effie Thomas, Miss Belle Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Verhees and family.

Mrs. C. C. Mosher and daughter, Miss Virginia, W. Market-st, will return Thursday from Toledo where they motored on Wednesday for a short stay.

Mrs. Herbert H. Glover of Grand Island, Nebraska, was the honored guest at an attractive luncheon and bridge given Thursday at the Lima club by Mrs. Henry Deisel. Mrs. Glover is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Glover, Lakewood-ay.

Covers for forty were marked at the small luncheon tables laid in the main dining room of the club. Bowls of the various shades of sweet-peas and roses were used at each table and place cards and nut cups were of the corresponding shades.

Junior Epsworth league met with Mrs. Teaton Wednesday evening. A large attendance was the feature of the evening, and all participated in the program which was arranged by the hostess.

CHAPTER I

The Remittance Man

The idea came to Big Chris, as he stood on the beach gazing out over the narrow, darkened harbor, mouth into the night and the storm, that this world of his was an outcast world, a land that God had cursed and forsaken, a parish land outlawed from the kindly, sun-kissed world where the races moved and teemed. Because it was his home, because its grim, strange spirit of desolation and death had long ago got hold of him, it was as if he were a pariah, too. God-cursed and God-forsaken, scarcely less so than the Remittance Man, with whom he had just become acquainted and who lay in a drunken stupor in one of the tumble-down shacks in the native village behind him.

Such ideas did not haunt him often. He was huge and blond and rugged—not a dreamer in any sense except as all men of the northern races, knowing life to its cruel depths, are given to dreams—and his last name was Larson. His job, that of a web foreman in connection with the fishing that was the one industry in these far, forsaken waters, kept him too busy for such moods as this. But the North was showing its teeth tonight. Because he was inwardly ill at ease from purely material considerations—he had caught the cannery launch Jupiter at Nushagak, with the idea of coming up with the mail boat at Squaw Harbor, the Jupiter's home port, to race to the "outside," but the swift-breaking storm had forced the launch into a miniature cove far up in one of the most desolate and stormy stretches of seacoast in the entire North, there to remain for an uncertain me.

Of course it was only a squall in the tradition of seafarers. Captain Jim of the Jupiter—on the way home from a scouting trip for a new trap had driven his staunch little ship thru seas twice as high. But Captain Jim did not care to take a chance when a mere passenger's haste was the only consideration. Chicks at Belingham, and Bradford at Squaw Harbor had given definite instructions against that very thing, needless risk of the lives of his crew. Yet, Chris had to admit that this was no night for landlubbers.

In all his travel he had never known a land so like this: a narrow, useless, storm-battered peninsula that was the fence between the Pacific and the fence between the Pacific and the Bering Sea. Perhaps that was why he hated it, and by a groove of paradise that no man such as he could even explain, loved it, too. He had been sheltered him from the lash of the wind, yet he felt the cold of the air in his head that all the marks of weather, and the touch of the frost as of a hand, crept into his shirt. He had the heavy sea-coat he had left in a cabin in the large. The cold, he thought turned him to a man, wondering he was taking out. It is not a man to seek one's fortune in a rough and then the cold. This was November; he had a hat with him, but he was at the dining table he had and the cause was surpassed the drinking land, a place clear to Nushagak. He did not participate in the annual festival with which all far-western Alaska celebrates the Christmas. Yet the storm seemed to increase; the beat of the waves on the rocks had a repeat, more sinister sound. He had the sensible notion to follow the Remittance Man's example and forget his predicament, the cold, the darkness, the harbor. The darkness without the harbor was a faint, upward-darting flare of light.

The glow came from far away, evidently from off the rock-ribbed shore far up the Peninsula, but the clear, icy air enabled him to bring it into full clearness. He stood almost motionless, peering. There was a faint light. Then he saw the yellow flare again.

The Jupiter's course was decided for her. She was not to lie in the harbor to carry her eager passenger to the home shelter of Squaw Harbor. Captain Jim stepped to the water line.

"Captain Jim," he called. His voice, ringing and low, carried easily to the launch in the little harbor. Captain Jim stepped to the door of his pilot house, and his reply came back at the dullness like a wave out of the dark sea. "Yes"—and only the dull flattening of the a—always marked among men Scandinavian birth—swelled from sublimity that full, mysterious sound.

"Did you see daylight?"

"Then Park East by next east." The watch and the pocket made a long, yellow path thru the darkness. There was no immediate change in Captain Jim's expression. He said a hand and I sounded a song that told his chief engineer to stand by. Then he gave me other orders—brusquely, bawlingly, as was his way. "Get in and put me aboard!" Big Chris leaped from the decked ship. It was not that he had any delusions in regard to this crew of the Jupiter. The launch would not head toward home port, nor would there be any great thrill in battling these angry seas. Big Chris kept silent, the captain might have pushed out forgotten him, they had met only a few days before, and therefore no instinct to turn to each other in a crisis. However, it did not so much occur to him that he could refrain from answering personally that he could call from the dead, or that he was entitled to any special credit.

Chris's hand moved deliberately and slow, but certain as yoked oxen. He knew, that no seconds were to be wasted in reaching him. Every available man would be needed in the work.

He was a great, strong, scowling fellow, such as he had seen in the North. At his command one of his meager crew pushed the ship at a swiftness bent in the boat, rowed in swift, sure strokes.

He was standing ready to jump in, but he paused for one instant. "I am not in this village wort taking?" he asked.

The captain is a cripple, but Lord, he'll be mad. There's only one who lives in the village, and that's the Remittance Man. Get the Remittance Man out of them that they should take natives on this. It is not to man's job, and it would take the white man's heart out to do it. No man would ever go to see about the Remittance Man, he would not manhood and self-respect to be of any kind. He had only brought up sharp in their work of pushing him along, he knew, that no seconds were to be wasted in reaching him. "Wait a second, you fellows," he said. "I am about, almost commanding in tone, and there was a faint smile in the snow. "I want to go."

The Northern men—disgrace—had disgraced that the northern men had been taken in full—had not destroyed a certain quality of man in the Remittance Man's voice. It was rich, full baritone, and it clung to these hard-fisted men of the North. The Remittance Man's from "the States," and the particular section of which he was to be easily recognized by his accent; a softening of hard parts and a lowing of vowels that is indigenous to the country south of Mason and Dixon. The two men in the boat heard no thick speech.

INDUSTRIAL CIRCUIT BALL IS TAKING HOLD IN LIMA

JINX LAYS CLAMMY HAND ON REDS; MANY CRIPPLES

Hard rows for poor old Cimiey; hard as flint against steel. It is not often that scouts of major league teams are asked to take a hand in the game, because there is usually a bench list to supply extra players, but Wednesday in the game against St. Louis Eddie Hock and Jimmy Begley took a hand and played a fine game. The hospital list includes Daubert, Roush, Duncan, Bohne, Cavaney, Fonseca and Hargrave. Figure this bunch of stars: Give 'em a pitcher and they would furnish sufficient force to play any major league team. This is the situation of the Cincinnati Reds at this day and date. And still they won a game; broke even in the double header played at St. Louis yesterday.

They worried the first game with many changes in the line up. The second game which was a complete victory all things considered, with a coach playing part of the time in left field, a pitcher to the batter there and a second player leading on his feet, it became apparent that base. It is certain that a team can win a game under these circumstances, but without losing its spirit. Eddie Daubert was tried for the first instant just above the right temple. He fell to the ground and was assisted off the field. He voluntarily went to a hospital. It is expected that he will be over sufficiently to play again today. Roush was unassisted in getting him an injury to his left leg. He was going after what looked good for three bases, with a last desperate effort he managed to spear the ball, but injured his leg. Cincinnati is certainly jaded.

But the forlorn hope is the fact that Cincinnati keeps winning. The new season has been unfortunate in getting into stride. Altho games were scheduled to begin May 1, there has not been anything like favorable weather on a single Sunday. Lima has been forced to hold back four straight times. Bryan and the other towns in the western portion of the circuit have been more fortunate, but it can truthfully be said that they have played only under the most unfavorable circumstances. There is an optimistic view taken by every manager in the league, however. It is unsafe to kick about the weather; might as well kick the pyramids and expect them to fall down; but it is certain that those conditions cannot exist throughout the season. There is promise of favorable weather for May 26, and if this comes true the league will be able to get under way in earnest.

It will be a test of strength for the Indians in the game with Delphos. Maurice Halloran has worked hard to get a winner together, and thus the first game they have been able to play will be a criterion of what can be expected. There will be a large crowd journey to the little city on the canal. A holiday crowd. It has been a long time since they have seen a good game of ball, and it is certain that they will lend their best efforts to make this one interesting. Payne who pitched for Delphos against New Bremen will be in the box for that team again. He showed exceptional strength in that game, while Halloran will probably pitch. Main. The lineups are: Lima-Costello, cf; Egan, lf; Poornan, rf; Sykes, 2b; Fish, 3b; Mallory, ss; Wise, ss; Main, p; Herring, c. Delphos-Branderhoff, 2b; Huber, ss; Dutto, 3b; Remlinger, cf; Payne, p; Bonfig, 2b; Patrick, cf; Kramer, ss; Tilton, lf; Joe Goodrich of Lima and Bigelow of Delphos will be the umpires.

TRADE ON STOCK EXCHANGE DULL

Main Tendency in Quotations is Downward

MARKET IS IRREGULAR

Oil Shares Are Subjected to Selling Pressure

LIBERTY BONDS

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—Stock prices moved within narrow and irregular limits at the opening of the day, but the main tendency appeared downward. A number of the oils yielded on rumors of further price cuts. International Paper and United Drug each dropped 1/2 points.

Trading turned dull on the decline. Losses of 3/4 to 1 1/2 points were recorded by American Can, Baldwin, American Smelting, National Lead, General Electric, Rock Island six per cent preferred, Delaware and Hudson and Nickel Plate, Market Street Railroad. Prior preferred moved against the current trend, climbing one point. Foreign exchange trading was quiet, with the principal rates holding steady.

With traders showing little inclination to accumulate stocks over the prolonged holiday, the main course of prices continued downward, altho a few issues developed independent strength. Peter Marquette, Cuban Sugar preferred, U. S. Cast Iron Pipe preferred and Public Service of New Jersey moved up briskly, the latter reaching new high ground for the year at 47 1/2. Selling of low-priced oil shares was influenced by a further expansion in crude oil production in stocks. Offerings of coals, coppers, textiles and several specialties increased in volume. Norfolk and Western and General Electric yielded 2 points each. Delaware and Hudson 2 1/2, and Wells Fargo Express 4 1/2, all money opened at 3 per cent and fell back to 2 1/2 with time money displaying an easier tone.

Stock prices drifted downward in today's dull session. Oils were subjected to selling pressure at the start on circulation of unfavorable trade reports and bear selling was noted in a few specialties, but little long stock was dislodged, and the general list stiffened towards the close on weekend short covering. Sales approximated 40,000 shares. The closing was irregular.

CHURCH DIVORCE LAW STANDS

Proposal for Change Defeated by Methodist Conference

SPRINGFIELD, Mass.—(Associated Press)—A proposal for a drastic change in the divorce law of the Methodist Episcopal church was defeated ten votes at the closing session of the general conference today. The vote was 300 to 310 in favor of the proposal.

The present law forbids ministers to marry a divorced person when the husband or wife is living unless that person is the innocent party in a divorce for adultery.

The change would have legalized all marriages, except those of guilty parties in divorce for adultery.

The proposed change also forbids ministers to marry "any person known to be physically, mentally or morally unfit."

"The present law can't be enforced," said Rev. G. Bronley Oxman of Los Angeles, declared, "and thousands of men divorced for reasons other than adultery now are living in adultery and are subject to trial."

"A woman who secures a divorce from a brutal husband and wants a home for her children must be blessed with a blessing. We ought to let the basic causes of divorce instead of waiting until the home is broken, if we have a bad law we ought to repeal it."

"If you adopt this: report you will get out the law upon divorce upon which we have been acting for many years," Dr. V. G. Duvane, of New York, warned the delegates. "An attempt is being made to meet the conditions in certain parts of the country in which many people go to get divorced. We must take this backward in a reactionary step."

RUGGIST'S SON HELD ON BOGUS CHECK CHARGE

COLONEL Victor Schreiber, son of Bruno M. Schreiber, Colonist druggist, probably was suffering from a mental lapses, his father said when he gave a bogus check payment for an automobile in Cincinnati. Young Schreiber is unknown there now.

According to the father, his son, a period of mental incompetency or the result of having been struck the head when a child.

He said he remained his normal mind after an operation there but he was anxious to face the charges against him.
